PLATTING OF LAND

Subdivision is the process of dividing one parcel of land into two or more parcels and involves the layout of a parcel of vacant land into lots, blocks, streets and public areas. A plat of property, following the approval of the Planning Commission, is recorded with the Lafayette Parish Clerk of Court.

Platting is used for managing community growth and for implementing the Comprehensive Plan. The rules and procedures for platting can be found in the subdivision regulations. These regulations are administered by the Development and Planning Department.

There are a number of reasons why developers and citizens alike seek plat approval by the Planning Commission. These include:

State law requires that prior to the sale or donation of any property, it must be platted and approved by the Planning Commission.

Lot purchasers have some degree of official protection simply because a uniform set of standards is used to review the subdivision prior to its legal registration.

Taxpayers and subdividers are assured through the approval process that all subdivisions will be constructed to established standards.

In order to obtain a permit for new residential or commercial construction, a plat of the property must have been approved or considered a "lot of record" by the Planning, Zoning and Development Department. There are three (3) avenues for plat approval:

Hearing Examiner

If the property being platted is five (5) acres or less in size, five (5) lots or less, and does not create any new public or private streets, then it can be reviewed through the Hearing Examiner process. The Hearing Examiner process takes approximately 10-15 days to complete.

The Director of the Development and Planning Department (or his/her designee) acts as the Hearing Examiner for the Planning Commission. The review process is the same as the Planning Commission, however, the approval time is shorter.

The Planning Commission must ratify all actions of the Hearing Examiner. Any action of the Hearing Examiner can be appealed to the Planning Commission.

PLANNING COMMISSION

If the property being platted is greater than five acres in size, or if five or more lots are being created, or if new public or private streets are being dedicated, then the plat must be approved by the Planning Commission.

Approval by the Planning Commission generally takes between 30-45 days to complete. Since the property being platted is usually a large tract of property, and new streets are being created, the review and approval time needs to be more detailed.

The plat is reviewed by the Areawide Development Review Committee (ADRC) for compliance with drainage, transportation, zoning, utilities, etc. The ADRC make a recommendation of approval, conditional approval or denial to the Planning Commission.

The Planning Commission holds a public hearing on the proposed development and votes to approve, conditionally approve or deny the development. Parish Commission meetings are held once a month, on the second Monday of the month at 5:00 p.m. City Commission meetings are held once a month, on the third Monday of the month at 5:00 p.m.

PROPERTY ADDRESSES

The Development Division of the Department of Development and Planning issues municipal addresses for the City of Lafayette, unincorporated areas of Lafayette Parish, Carencro, Scott, and Youngsville. We have worked closely with the Geographic Information Services Division to create a Point Address Layer over the existing aerial photography. Citizens are able to identify property in Lafayette Parish by addresses and determine if it is located within the corporate limits of Lafayette, Carencro, Broussard, Duson, Scott, Youngsville or the Unincorporated Area of the Parish.

Should you need to be issued a new property address, it must be issued from the office of Development and Planning.

BOARD & ZONING ADJUSTMENT (BOZA)

Site Approval and Requests for Variance of Zoning Regulations

Individuals and building contractors visit the Development Division of the Development and Planning Department to request Building Permits for residential construction, both new and remodeling. Planners review plans to insure that the proposed use is permitted in the property's zoning district and that such requirements as minimum building setbacks, parking, fencing, signage, and landscaping are met.

In some instances, when an applicant is unable to meet the requirements, he or she may apply to the Board of Zoning Adjustment (B.O.Z.A.) for a "Variance" of the specific requirement that would otherwise prevent development of a site. The Board meets monthly to consider and decide on these requests. Since action by the City-Parish Council is not required, a citizen can receive final action at the meeting and proceed with construction, within approximately 45 days.
